SUCCULENT SANITISER STATIONS

Hand Sanitiser Stations

Check out these attractive hand sanitiser stations, complete with quality dispensers and plant displays. Ideal for Hotels, Restaurants, Care Homes, Clinics, and offices etc.

To ensure there's something for every space and situation we've developed both a lavender and a succulent design, and the stations are available in the following three variations:
